SMALL VOTE CAST IN CITY UP TO NOON

Large Turnout of Women is Expected at the Polls During the Afternoon Hours

EIGHT O'CLOCK IS TIME OF CLOSING OF THE POLLS

Considerable Interest Evinced in Spirited Contests in Several Wards

That the vote in the city precincts on primary day was light up to the noon hour, was the word received from election clerks in various precincts.

Only in precincts where there are three or more candidates running for aldermen, notably in the Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Sixteenth wards, was there much activity displayed by candidates or workers.

Election officials predicted that a much larger percentage of the vote would be cast during the afternoon hours, and that there would be the usual eleventh hour rush after supper. Polls close at 8 o'clock.

According to women ward workers, this afternoon will witness a large outpouring of feminine voters. Women find it hard to leave their house work during the morning hours, and comparatively few voted before noon, but with the noon meal disposed of, already will be ready to perform her duty as a citizen at the polls.

Chief interest in the city ticket was evinced in the contest for the nominations for city treasurer, this being the only office for which more than two candidates are out.

The candidates are City Treasurer J. G. Schweizer, Frank G. Brieske, Arthur J. Roberge and Fred Schmidt. Two will be nominated and two eliminated from the race today.

Both Mayor A. A. Bentley and F. H. Fowler will be nominated for mayor today, and the real contest will come at the election on April 5.

PROHIBITION AGENTS KILLED IN RAID ON TEXAS RANCH TODAY

Fired on by Party in Ranch House While Conducting Search for Liquor

EL PASO Tex.—Federal prohibition agents, S. E. Beckett and Arch Woods were shot to death early Tuesday morning while hunting for liquor on a ranch owned by Neil T. Sbearman near this city.

Federal officers were given a tip Monday night that a load of liquor was to be sent across the line intended for a ranch, according to members of the raiding party.

The posse was nearing the ranch-house when a voice shouted at them to halt. The officers did not stop. A volley of shots followed. Beckett and Woods fell mortally wounded.

The remaining officers fired from woodsheds and barns, returning fire from the house. When the firing from the house ceased the officers entered the place but its occupants had escaped.

CASHED NEWSPAPER REPRODUCTION OF WAR BONUS CHECK

SEATTLE, Wash.—Police are searching for a man, who, it was alleged, presented a newspaper's pictured reproduction of a state soldier bonus warrant for $405 at a restaurant and received the cash for it. W. H. Klett, war veteran, received the first bonus warrant issued here last week and the check was reproduced in a newspaper. The clipping pasted on a sheet of plain paper was cashed by the restaurantieur who learned he had been defrauded when he included the clipping with a bank deposit Tuesday.

PART OF SILESIA MAY GO TO POLAND REPORTS IN PARIS

Mining Districts May be Awarded to Poles by Allied Council

VOTE FAVORED POLAND IN PARTS OF PLEBISCITE AREA

Vote in Entire Region Favored Germany by 3 to 2

PARIS.—Newspapers of this city, in commenting on the result of the plebiscite held on Sunday in Upper Silesia for the purpose of determining the future political status of that region, declare that there is a possibility that the mining districts in the western and southern parts of Upper Silesia may be given to Poland by the allies. The most of them declare France will be satisfied with the verdict rendered at the polls.

Warsaw Celebrates.

WARSAW, March 21.—By The Associated Press.—Optimistic news from the plebiscite districts in Upper Silesia tonight, was received by cheering thousands guthered in an open air meeting here. The celebrators improvised an altar at which prayers were offered for the territory they believed had been regained for Poland after a separation of more than 600 years.

The meeting was called by enthusiasts among the population, notwithstanding the fact that the late editions of the newspapers showed the returns on which the rejoicing was based, were unofficial and incomplete. The meeting was attended by members of the government and representatives of the diet, the army and the clergy.

The plebiscite news caused the biggest jump in months for the Polish mark, the quotation moving from 860 to 650 for the dollar.

Returns from Sunday's plebiscite in Upper Silesia received Monday from German sources indicated a vote for the whole territory on a scale of about 3 to 2 in favor of Germany. These advices were borne out in large measure by returns through London Monday night which reported the Upper Silesian vote generally in favor of Germany but that sections of the territory, notably the southern section and to the east and south to the line running from Rosenberg to Krappitz had voted in favor of Poland.

The latest German advices indicate a lessening of the feeling of jubilation that was reported throughout Germany as a result of the returns from the voting, a lesser degree of German preponderance than was expected, being shown. It has been pointed out by the Berlin press, likewise, that under the treaty the entente has the power to take into consideration the severing by communes and the economic relations of the various sections, some of which, it was felt, might be awarded to Poland, notably certain regions which are regarded as highly important to German industry.

CONEY STARTS LATE TONIGHT ON RETURN FLIGHT ON COAST

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—Lieutenant Coney, 91st aero squadron, who recently flew from San Diego to Jacksonville in 22 hours 27 minutes, establishing a new record for the flight, was making final preparations Tuesday to begin his return trip. The start will be made soon after midnight and the aviator expects to arrive in San Diego by twilight Wednesday afternoon. A brief halt at Dallas, Texas, is the only stop planned.

Lieutenant Coney's mother, two brothers and a large delegation of citizens of Brunswick, Ga., his home, were here to witness his departure.

EIGHTH WARD NOTICE

Eighth ward voters are notified that the voting booth in that precinct is now located in the West avenue playfield building.

Germany Refuses Payment of Reparations Demanded By Allies For March 23rd

BERLIN, March 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Germany's reply to the demand of the entente for the payment before March 23 of one billion marks, gold, to apply on reparations obligations will be in the negative, it was unofficially stated today.

The German government's answer to the allies now being drafted, will be presented within forty-eight hours as the time limit set expires Wednesday.

The allied reparations commission in a note sent March 16 demanding fulfillment by Germany of Article 235 of the peace treaty notified the German government it must pay one billion marks gold before March 23 and that she must complete the payment of twenty billion marks gold by May 1. It was announced by the commission, however, that Germany had virtually refused to pay the balance, asserting the twenty billion marks have been paid in full. The allied representatives stated the greatest sum they could compute as having been paid by Germany against this account could hardly reach eight billion marks by May 1. It is, therefore, the initial payment of one billion marks and a balance of at least eleven billion marks that the allies are demanding of the German government.

RECESS APPOINTMENT OF ESCH TO U. S. RATE BOARD ANNOUNCED BY HARDING

CONFERENCE NEAR AGREEMENT ON WAGE DISPUTE IS REPORT

Delegates Refuse to Discuss Progress Made at Mediation Meeting

WASHINGTON. — An agreement between the five big meat packers and their employes through which present wage and other disputes will be amicably adjusted was forecast Tuesday a short time before a second joint conference of spokesmen for both sides with Secretary Davis at the labor department.

WASHINGTON.—As the cabinet assembled Tuesday to consider the controversy between the meat packers and their employes, there were reports that a tentative agreement was being approached. One plan being considered was that the wage reductions which went into effect Monday should stand, that the packers agree to extend the Alschuler agreement providing for settlement of difficulties by a permanent arbitrator, and that the eight hour day be agreed upon subject to peculiar conditions obtaining in the packing industry.

Parties to the conferences which have been conducted with Secretaries Davis, Hoover, and Wallace refused to discuss the reports and cabinet officials maintained their silence. It was said, however, that a prospect of a tentative agreement had resulted from private conferences held by the cabinet officers last night with the packers' representatives and by Secretary Davis this morning with the spokesmen for the workers.

OERTEL FARM HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE MONDAY AFTERNOON

Loss by Fire Estimated at Between $6,000 and $7,000; Fire Caused by Sparks

Involving a loss of between six and seven thousand dollars, the farm residence of C. F. Oertel, proprietor of the La Crosse Hygienic Dairy farm, was completely destroyed Monday afternoon when flames caused by sparks started in the roof and enveloped the building so rapidly that it was impossible to extinguish the fire.

The value of the property was estimated at between $6,000 and $7,000. It was said that the building was partially covered by insurance to the amount of $3,000.

Equipment from No. 3 fire station attended the fire but other than assisting in carrying out the furniture and household goods, the department was unable to do much. Bucket brigades were in evidence but due to the fact that the fire had gained considerable headway, the effort was futile.

According to a report of Central fire station Tuesday, the furniture and household goods were saved. In addition doors, windows and other material that could be torn from the house was taken before destroyed by the flames.

LOCAL MAN LEAVES WITHIN FEW DAYS TO ASSUME NEW DUTIES

Announcement of President's Action Comes Without Surprise to Esch

WASHINGTON.—John J. Esch former representative from Wisconsin, was given a recess appointment, Tuesday by President Harding as a member of the interstate commerce commission.

Mr. Esch, one of the authors of the transportation act, was nominated to the commission during the recent special session of the senate, but confirmation was held up on objection by Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin.

Former Congressman John J. Esch has known for several days that a recess appointment would be made by President Harding.

The first information came in a telegram from E. A. McMenimen, congressional lobbyist at Washington for one of the railroad brotherhoods. This message conveyed the information that President Harding would name Mr. Esch in a recess appointment for member of the interstate commerce commission, and extended congratulations.

Mr. Esch did not deem it advisable to make announcement of the news contained in the messages but instead permitted the first announcement to come from the President's office in Washington.

Asked regarding his plans, Mr. Esch said he would arrange his affairs here so as to leave for Washington to take up his duties in a few days.

Several corporations have been fined for delinquency in filing returns, other corporations upstate, officials said, probably will be fined within a few days.

Charles Karrib, North Side Grocer, also Files Petition

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed Tuesday morning by the Thill-Manning-Whalen company, 512-514 State street, a firm which for many years has been engaged in the plumbing, heating and electrical business and in sewer and water pipe construction work.

The petition, which was filed with Clerk of the United States Court Alfred Harrison, represents that the firm has assets of $36,525 and liabilities of $36,647.39. The principal asset of the company is the business house in State street, valued, in the petition, at $25,000.

There are mortgages against this property and the list of unsecured claims totals over $5,000.

MAIL PLANES STOP TEMPORARILY AT LONE ROCK FIELD

Salzer Field Declared to be too Wet and Spongy for the Heavy Planes

Heavy air mail planes flying over the Chicago-La Crosse-Twin city route are stopping temporarily at Lone Rock, when there is occasion for them to land, it was announced at the Salzer flying field today. As much as possible the mail-ships are making non-stop flights between Chicago and the Twin cities, owing to the general muddy condition of landing fields.

Owing to the wet, spongy condition of the Salzer field, it makes it difficult for the heavier type of ship to land, it was said. The Lone Rock field is said to be a dry stretch of ground. Herbert Carlson, manager of the Salzer field, now is at Lone Rock to look after ships that may land there.

As soon as the Salzer field dries, the ships will continue to stop in their trips between Chicago and the Twin cities.

HARDING ISSUES CALL FOR SPECIAL CONGRESS SESSION TO CONVENE ON APRIL 11th

FOWLER BACKS BILL FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF EIGHT-HOUR DAY

La Crosse Man Speaks in Support of Conway Measure in the Assembly

ASSEMBLY KILLS MEASURE BY VOTE OF 45 TO 39

Bill Had Backing of American Federation of Labor

MADISON, Wis. —(Special)— The Conway Eight Hour Day bill involving all mills, factories and manufacturing plants in the state was defeated in the assembly Tuesday by a vote of 45 to 39.

The measure was endorsed by the Wisconsin Federation of Labor. Cheese factories and creameries were excluded.

Fowler Fights For it

Assemblyman Frank H. Fowler, La Crosse, championed the cause of the worker and led the fight for the bill along with M. H. Killian member from Milwaukee.

"We are living in a new era" said Fowler, "our civilization can be sustained by an Eight Hour day. I have heard a great deal on this floor about the work or starve policy. Gentlemen, I don't want my children nor my grandchildren to work as hard as I had to work. I remember working on the ice fields. I began Monday morning and worked all that day, all that night, all day Tuesday and slept Tuesday night. I began Wednesday working all the day, all the night and all the following day, sleeping again Friday. I don't want anyone subject to such hours.

A Good Bill.

"This is a good bill, it ought to pass and I am going to vote for it," Fowler said.

"The statement has been made on the floor of this house," said F. W. Ploetz, assemblyman from Waushara, "that Wisconsin is progressive. It is progressive, gentlemen. It is so progressive we are now trying to find a landing place."

"This bill means better conditions for labor in Wisconsin," said Assemblyman Killian. "There are 200,000 workers idle in this state today. By decreasing the hours, more jobs will be available to take up this unemployment."

The assembly sent the Hasley bill for an eight hour day on public printing back to committee.

Seventeen members who helped vote down a motion to kill the Hasley bill assisted in defeating the American Federation of Labor bill, known as the Conway measure. The vote on it was 45 for indefinite postponement and thirty-nine against.

Assemblyman Ploetz, who supported the Hasley bill, made the principal speech against the Conway measure and pointed to the group of grey beards among the farmer assemblymen to refute the claim that long hours of work were injurious to one's health.

Tends to Level

Mark Hasley, floor leader, declared the Conway bill "tends to force every man to a certain level." He knew, he said, "thousands of men who do not want to stay on that one level, who want to rise above their fellow men and who do not want to be told they can work only a certain number of hours."

Assemblyman Fowler of La Crosse and C. E. Hanson, administration floor leader, spoke in favor of the bill.

The vote follows:

Ayes—Anderson, Atchcrson, Bislow, Caldwell, Catlin, Cole, Cook, Cushman, Dertinger, Edwards, Engel, J. R. Farr, Fifield, Grandine, Hess, Hineman, A. C. Johnson, H. F. Johnson, J. E. Johnson, Jones, Kaufman, Kenyon, Lamb, Larson, Mahon, Mark, Matheson, McDowell, Moul, Oakes, Parker, Perry, Pierron, Ploetz, Rynders, Scribner, Smith, Stokes, Sullivan, Verkuilen, Vollmer, Weittenhiller, Young—45.

Noes—Ankerson, Bartingale, Burden, Conway, Dahl, Downs, Fowler, Freehoff, French, Goodman, Grimstad, C. E. Hanson, J. C. Hanson, Higgins, Holly, E. H. Johnson, Jordan, Riesner, Killian, Lorfield, A. M. Miller, W. F. Miller, Nelson, Oliver, Olson, Ott, Pelitier, Peterson, Polokowski, Prescott, Ruffing, Sachtjen, Schafer, Schwalbach, Stolowski, Ziemer, Zitlow—39.

Paired—Summerville for, and M. Farr against—2.

Absent and not voting—Becker, Best, Beversdorf, Bullis, Clark, Gaumer, Gutwald, P. H. Hanson, Jensen, Koenig, Meising, Roseland, Tuffley, Weix—14.

EXPECT ACTION ON TARIFF AND TAX REVISION

President Makes no Mention in Call of Specific Subjects to be Taken up by New Congress

HOUSE COMMITTEE AGREES TO EMERGENCY TARIFF PLAN

Drop Opposition to Proposal at Request of President Harding

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A proclamation convening congress in special session at noon April 11, "to receive such communication as may be made by the executive," was issued Tuesday by President Harding.

Tariff and tax revision will be the principal subject before the new congress, but many other important subjects, including the transportation problem, regulation of the packing and coal industries and immigration restriction are expected to be taken up.

None of the subjects to be considered was mentioned in the call for the session, the text of which follows:

The President's Call

"Whereas, public interests require that the congress of the United States should be convened in extra session at 12 o'clock noon on the eleventh day of April, 1921, to receive such communication as may be made by the executive;

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the congress of the United States to convene in extra session at the capitol in the city of Washington, on the eleventh day of April, 1921, at 12 o'clock noon, of which all persons who shall at that time be entitled to act as members thereof are hereby required to take notice."

Agree on Tariff

Reversing their previous position against enactment of an emergency tariff, members of the house ways and means committee Tuesday acceded to the request of President Harding for passage at once of a measure designed to afford protection to the farmers against foreign competition.

With the emergency measure out of the way the house, according to the final program agreed on, then will take up the anti-dumping bill, to be followed by permanent tariff revision. Actual work of framing the tariff bill will be begun by the ways and means committee at once.

VON BEHRENS DIES MONDAY AFTERNOON AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

Lives Over Twelve Hours After 32 Caliber Bullet Passes Through Skull

WILLIAM VON BEHRENS, Park restaurant man who attempted suicide by shooting himself at his residence at an early hour Monday, died at the St. Francis hospital about 4:30 Monday afternoon. With his skull pierced by a bullet, Mr. Von Behrens lived for over twelve hours.

Relatives of Mr. Von Behrens, through the police department of Toledo, Ohio, his home, were in communication with John B. Webber, chief of police here Monday, and advised that the body be held pending further notice. Shortly before noon on Tuesday a telegram from Toledo asked that the body be shipped to that city where the burial will take place.

A letter found on the body, directed to the police department, contained orders as to the disposal of his body. Another addressed to William Von Behrens, Jr., Toledo, Ohio, on which six two-cent stamps were placed, was also found on the body.

DISARMAMENT MOVE MUST ORIGINATE IN U. S. DECLARES JAP

Suggestion for Reduction in Armament Would Find Ready Response

SEES CHANCE FOR ADOPTION OF MORRIS-SHIDEHARA PACT

Believes Harding Administration Will Approve Agreement

NEW YORK.—Bishop Yoshiyasu Hira Iwa of the Japan Methodist church, now in this city, declared that while he was in Washington, Count Shidehara, Japanese ambassador, had expressed to him belief that the Harding administration would adopt the Morris-Shidehara agreement in final settlement of the Japanese situation in California.

"The Japanese public is anxiously awaiting news to this effect," said the churchman. "The Morris-Shidehara agreement will be satisfactory to the Japanese people, but it leaves unsolved the problem of racial expansion which is pressing.

"The Japanese still look toward the western hemisphere as the only logical ground for immigration. But contrary to belief in this country they are willing to amalgamate with the people among whom they settle.

"Japan does not want Hawaii or the Philippines. The present friction has been greatly augmented, however, by the suddenly increased garrisons and the extensive fortifications being built there.

"Frankly, the Japanese people are extremely nervous over the possibilities of aggression from a nation of such power and wealth as the United States. They do not contemplate beginning any trouble of their own accord.

"There is a strong movement in Japan for reduction of armament because the present military and naval expenses consume more than one-third the yearly budget and the people are burdened with heavy taxes. Any action by the United States toward such an agreement would find a hearty response in Japan, but it must originate with your country because of the relative size of the two nations."

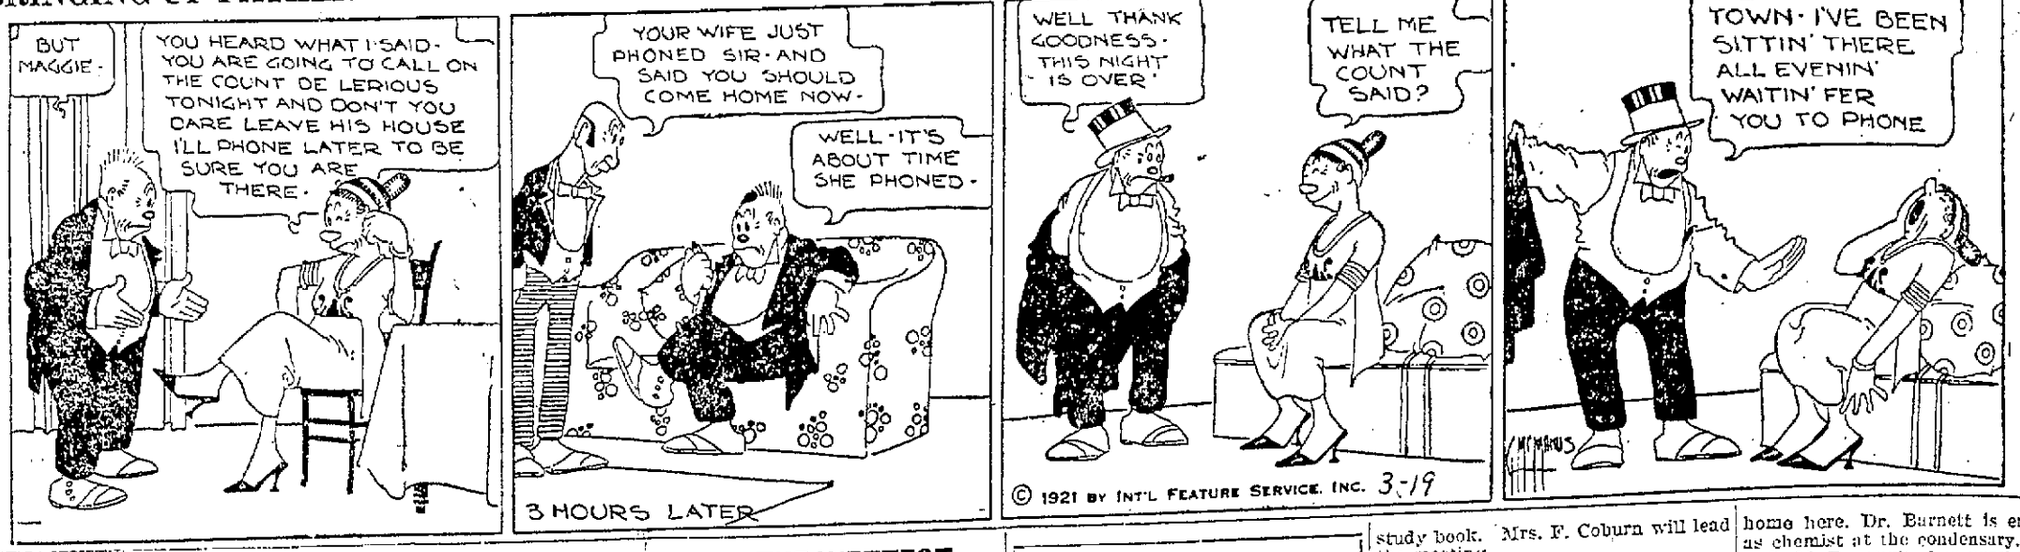

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The forestry service asked recently if anybody wanted a buffalo, having a score on hand to dispose of. Apparently the answer was "Everybody does," for the service has been deluged with requests. One little girl sent a two-cent stamp, expecting a baby buffalo by the return mail for her backyard zoo. A farmer with sixty acres and five children wanted a family playfellow. Stockmen wanted to try cross-breeding. Wild west shows rushed in applications by telegram and mail and the supply was quickly exhausted.

SIMPSON'S SQUAD RAIDS TOUGH TOWN IN HURLEY DISTRICT

"Big Molly" Starts Rough House and Brings Federal Agents to Saxon

Saxon, Wisconsin, headquarters for lumberjacks in a dozen camps in Iron county, was raided by federal prohibition enforcement agents Saturday. Every saloon in the town was raided. A hotel keeper and three alleged keepers of saloons gave bail before Court Commissioner Walter Cate at Ashland Saturday night, and a fifth man is in jail at Superior, the Ashland sheriff refusing to keep federal prisoners on the government pittance of 50 cents a day.

"Big Molly," woman bartender in the saloon of Bert Fowler, is the cause of all the trouble. Sheriffs of all north Wisconsin counties are now seeking "Big Molly," who is wanted on a charge of "carving" a customer last Wednesday.

The sheriff of Iron county, at Hurley, hastened to Saxon after he heard the story of "Big Molly" and the knife. "Big Molly" had fled. The sheriff asked for a drink. He says Fowler gave him the drink without hesitation.

Fowler was arrested, fined $300 and sentenced to serve six months in jail at Hurley, under the Wisconsin statutes.

Double on Track

J. Allen Simpson, chief of the prohibition enforcement agents in western Wisconsin, sent a federal agent in lumberjack's costume to Saxon. He also obtained a drink at the Fowler establishment, and every other establishment in town he reported.

Mr. Simpson himself and a squad of agents went to Saxon Saturday, obtained drinks, they said, and made the big raid.

Wednesday night the Fowler place was the scene of much revelry. "Big Molly" was in her glory. Frequenters of the place noticed that she had imbibed of a large quantity of spirituous liquors and for this reason, as her fame was spread, they kept away from her, according to stories here.

However, a man, not acquainted with the fame of the woman bartender, is alleged to have said something which did not meet with the approval of the Amazon. A fight ensued.

Revolver and Knife Appear

"Big Molly" made an effort to shoot the man with a revolver, but she was unable to take a steady aim, whereupon she grabbed a knife and proceeded to carve her victim to her heart's content, according to information obtained by the Iron county sheriff.

The fight was the "straw which broke the camel's back," and Mr. Simpson together with three assistants donned woodsmen's outfits and proceeded to Saxon. Warrants for the arrest of five proprietors of soft drink parlors were issued by United States Court Commissioner Walter Cate of Ashland.

Armed with the warrants, and incidentally with ample firearms, the prohibition officers entered the town. One place after another was visited. In each of the establishments the raiders purchased moonshine over the counters with the ease of purchasing cigars, they allege.

Five men were arrested and brought to Ashland. Waldorf Auger, hotel man, Dewey Mercer, Frank Sailor, Frank Kerfectec and Louis Vailer, saloon keepers, each waived examination at Ashland. Each gave bonds of $1,000, with the exception of Vailer.

Saxon has been reputed to be one of the northern Wisconsin centers for illicit liquor traffic. The town is located but a few miles from Hurley and since the wholesale raid on that city last year by federal agents, the moonshiners have moved their operations to the village of Saxon, federal men declare.

Residents of the section claim that the forests between the village and Lake Superior are infested with stills. Lumberjacks throng the streets at all hours of the night and the soft drink parlors are said to be open day and night.

SAXON THE WETTEST PLACE IN WISCONSIN CLAIM DRY OFFICERS

Forests Around Northern Town Declares Resort of Many Moonshiners

ASHLAND, Wis.—Five men arrested in a raid at Saxon, Wis., reported by prohibition officials to be the worst place in northern Wisconsin for illicit liquor traffic, waived preliminary examination and gave bonds for $1,000 each with the exception of one man, Louis Vailer saloonkeeper, who was sent to the Douglas county jail at Superior, Wis., being unable to give bail. The other men arrested were Waldorf Auger, hotelman, Dewey Mercer, Frank Sailor, and Frank Kerfectec. The men were arrested by J. Allen Simpson, prohibition officer for the western district of Wisconsin, acting under authority of search warrants issued by United States Court Commissioner Walter Cate of Ashland.

The liquor seized was "moonshine," said to have been made in Ashland. Poured in a dish, it burned like kerosene when a match was applied by the officials.

Saxon is a few miles from Hurley, Wis., and the village and the forests between it and Lake Superior have been regarded as resorts of the moonshiners, officials said.

Footwear for Easter

EASTER is somewhat of a challenge to women! How dull the day would be if it were not enlivened by the beauty of charming clothes. Many a woman's appearance is partially at least due to the smartness and distinction of beautiful footwear.

ARENZ SHOES and SLIPPERS have attained a definite social standing in and around La Crosse as footwear of smart styles, distinctive lines and serviceable materials.

HOUSE OF THE LORD

ONE thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in His Temple.—Psalms 27: 4.

Good Friday

ONE likes the readiness with which the business community has fallen in with the suggestion that its activities should cease on Good Friday during the hours in which the Son of Man agonized for humanity. It is an observance proper in an American city, for the torture and execution of the Carpenter of Nazareth was the final event in the life and work in which, eighteen centuries later, were rooted the inspiration and ideals of this nation. It may help us a little better to be true to the spirit of America in its nobler aspects to pause on the anniversary of His martyrdom and reflect upon what it has meant to the world. If the observance is to be more than a mere empty form it should lead to this reflection, to thought of the teachings of Our Lord for which he willingly died, and to their proper place not only in the churches but in the lives we live. Of all the creeds history has known Christianity is unique in its demand upon the individual believer for personal devotion and faithfulness to its principles in the business of living. Mere outward acceptance, lip-service to the traditional and man-made formulas of churches, is not Christianity either for individuals or for nations. The value of the Good Friday observance will lie in the extent to which we shall feel sufficiently the nature and meaning of the occasion to review our own shortcomings in this particular, to assay for ourselves the particulars in which we have not fought the good fight and kept the faith.

An Aid to Lovers

A DEVICE that will make the human heartbeat audible hundreds of miles away was demonstrated the other day at the army signal corps laboratory in Washington.

It's a simple contraption, and can be used over telephone wires for any distance. An electrical stethoscope is placed over the heart. Presto! Out over the telephone wires go the vibrations from the valves of the heart. These vibrations are repeated by a phonograph at the other end of the line, the sound being magnified thousands of times so that it's more like the chugging of a steam engine.

By using this device, a physician in New York might make a stethoscopic study of the heart action of a patient in San Francisco. And, too, brought to its highest utility, might not the lover at work in his office convey to his sweetheart in a far-off summer resort his undying love? If the pitty-pat of the heart is proof of love and devotion, here's the ideal long-distance method of conveying the message.

Still, a lover might make the error of holding the stethoscope over his watch. In the interest of harmony, science had better keep out of the love field.

The Best Result

THE significance of the Upper Silesia plebiscite is that it safeguards the German supply of coal to Germany, with all that coal means to civilization and industry. Since the French took over the Saar valley on what amounts to a long-term lease, in payment for the destruction which Germany visited on the coal fields of France, Upper Silesia is the only considerable coal-producing area that was left to Germany. Its possession was vital to continuity of German industry as it is now organized. Its loss would have meant a broad re-arrangement of German economic life, a retrogression of her manufacturing capacity, and doubtless considerable emigration. For if Poland had won the coal-fields, it is safe to say that she would have administered them first for her own interests, and by such devices as tariffs and embargoes have done all possible to enforce the utilization of the fuel in the expansion of Polish manufactures.

French political opinion, as well as Polish, will doubtless be disappointed with the Silesian result. French policy looks to a strong and aggressive Poland to take the place of Russia as the outstanding threat at Germany's back, and one of the means to this end was the respective weakening of Germany and strengthening of Poland which change of owners of the Silesian coal would have entailed. But Upper Silesia was so strongly German in race that the peace conference dared go no further than to give Poland a chance to prove her claims to the region if she could. Her failure will disappoint French imperialists and militarists, but in any broad view of affairs in Europe there are few other dissatisfactions.

Most of the world now recognizes that hope of peace and stability in Europe is fruitless unless there be a stable Germany. We know that there is no hope of reparations, for instance, unless German industry can be revived and put to production. We know that the financial crippling of Germany has dislocated world trade, and it will not be restored until Germany is again buying and selling. For these reasons it is probably better for all of us that the coal of Upper Silesia remains in German ownership. Had it passed to Poland, the period of re-adjustment and uncertainty would have been by so much prolonged. It would have been a big price to pay for helping along the questionable ambitions of French and Polish militarists.

Who's Who at Home?

A WOMAN'S Club in Washington, D. C., has launched a Keep-Your-Maiden-Name movement.

The purpose thereof is to create a public sentiment in favor of permitting married women to retain the names they were born with, rather than take the names their husbands give them. Thus, when Mary Jones marries John Smith she will be known as Mrs. Mary Jones and not as Mrs. John Smith.

The Keep-Your-Maiden-Name movement is in token of the new equality. The custom whereby Mary Jones becomes Mrs. John Smith is regarded as a survival of the benighted time when wives were held as chattel, whereas now they are supposed to be partners, sharing equally in the property, political and social rights of their husbands.

Why, ask the proponents of the new order, should a woman be expected to take her husband's name? They all argue that to require a woman to do so is quite as unfair, not to say as unseemly, as it would be to ask John Smith to become Mr. Mary Jones when he marries the young lady of that name.

The argument is difficult to answer. However, there are those who may reply that having promised to honor, as well as love and obey, her husband, the least a woman can do to honor the fellow is to adorn herself with his name.

And others may inquire which name the children will take if mother keeps her name and father his. Will the girls take mamma's maiden name, Jones, while the boys grow up to be Smiths like papa?

But the girls may not like mamma's name if it happens to be Toodles, or Tiddledewinks, or Jazzbo, or something like that. Will they then insist on taking papa's prettier name?

Plainly, the need for peace in families argues in favor of the maintenance of the old custom of labeling wives with the names of their husbands, even if the requirements of the new equality seem to argue otherwise.

What do you think about it, Mr. and Mrs. Reader?

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

A fortune awaits Hans Olsen Lien, a resident of North La Crosse, Attorney James Thompson today received notice from the department of state, Norway, that Lien has been left heir to a large estate by the death of his brother. No trace of Lien can be found on the north side but a rigid search will be instituted for a clue to his whereabouts.

Paul Umberger and Clarence Hoff started yesterday in their launch for St. Louis where they have contracted to deliver the boat. They will remain in St. Louis where they have positions.

John C. Toeller, manager of the Doerflinger store, has gone to Madison to attend a reception at the executive mansion.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The millinery stock of the store on Third and Main streets, occupied by A. F. Reitzel, was swept away by fire at six o'clock this morning. A loss of $9,000 was sustained.

The rapidity with which Root, La Crosse and Black rivers are rising has prompted the railroads to take steps to prevent damage to their tracks. Already the bottoms near North La Crosse and in the vicinity of H Goddard's hay sheds are flooded and the water is within a foot of the Milwaukee tracks.

The board of public works has ordered a patent street sweeper to be used on the new brick pavement on Main street.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Mr. Frank Killian entered upon his duties as fireman today to take the place of Norris Bacheller, who resigned.

La Crosse lumbermen are threatened with having a heavy tax imposed upon them by a bill which is now before the state legislature. The bill was introduced by a legislator from Eau Claire and gives four citizens of that city the privilege of damming Chippewa river just below the head of Beef Slough and charge lumbermen fifty cents per thousand for all logs passing through. This would cost La Crosse lumbermen between four and five hundred thousand dollars a year in revenue. John Paul, David Austin, L. C. Colman, D. A. McDonald and P. S. Davidson have gone to Madison to see that both sides of the measure are explained and to keep the bill from becoming law if possible.

Mr. William Mollitor of the La Crosse National bank, will leave on Friday to accompany the Wisconsin State University Banjo and Glee clubs on their annual tour of the state which will last two weeks. Mr. Mollitor will act as treasurer and will also sing at some of the concerts.

A Man For the Ages

"I'd rather give ten bushel o' wheat than miss seein' you fellers take hold o' each other," said Alexander Ferguson.

"I would, too," said Martin Waddell.

So it happened that these friendly giants, each dreading the ordeal, faced each other for a contest.

"Now we shall see which is the son of Peleus and which is the son of Telemon," Kelso shouted.

"How shall we rassle?" Samson asked.

"I don't care," said Abe.

"Rough and tumble," Ferguson proposed.

Both men agreed. They bent low intently watching each other, their great hands outstretching. They stood braced for a second and suddenly both sprang forward. Their shoulders came together with a thud. It was like two big bison bulls hurling their weight in the first shock of battle. For a breath each bore with all his strength and then closed with his adversary. Each had an under hold with one arm, the other hooked around a shoulder. Samson lifted Abe from his feet but the latter with tremendous efforts loosened the hold of the Vermonter, and regained the turf. They struggled across the dooryard, the ground trembling beneath their feet. They went against the side of the house shaking it with the force of their impact. Samson had broken the grip of one of Abe's hands and now had his feet in the air again but the young giant clung to hip and shoulder and wriggled back to his foothold. Those lesser men were thrilled and a little frightened by the mighty struggle. Knowing the strength of the wrestlers they felt a fear of broken bones. Each had torn a rent in the coat of the other. If they kept on there was danger that both would be stripped. The children had begun to cry. Sarah begged the struggling men to stop and they obeyed.

"If any of you fellers think that's fun you can have my place," said Abe. "Samson, I declare you elected the strongest man in this county. You've got the muscle of a grizzly bear. I'm glad to be quit o' ye."

"It ain't a fair election, Abe," Samson laughed. "If you were rassling for the right you could flop me. This little brush was nothing. Your heart wasn't in it, and by thunder, Abe, when it comes to havin' fun I rather guess we'd both do better to let each other alone."

"Tain't exactly good amusement, not for us," Abe agreed.

It was growing dark. Ann Rutledge arrived on her pony, and called Abe aside and told him that the raiders were in the village and were breaking the windows of Radford's store because he had refused to sell them liquor.

"Have they any guns with them?" Abe asked.

"No," Ann answered.

"Don't say anything about it," Abe cautioned her. "Just go into the house with Sarah Traylor and sit down and have a good visit. We'll look after the raiders."

Then Abe told Samson what was up. The men concealed themselves in some bushes by the roadside while the minister sat close against an end of the house with his blood hound beside him. Before they were settled in their places they heard the regulators coming. The horses of the latter were walking as they approached. Not a sound came from the men who rode them. They proceeded to the grove just beyond the cabin and hitched their horses. There were eight men in the party according to Abe's count as they passed. The men, in concealment, hurried to the cabin and surrounded it, crouched against the walls. In a moment they could see a big spot, blacker than the darkness moving toward them. It was the massed raiders. They came on with the stealth of a cat nearing its prey. A fiend-roar broke the silence. The blood hound leaped forward. The waiting men sprang to their feet and charged. The raiders turned and ran, pell mell, in a panic toward their horses. Suddenly the darkness seemed to fill with moving figures. One of the fleeing men, whose coat tails the dog had seized, was yelling for help. The minister rescued him and the dog went after the others. When the New Salemites got to the edge of the grove they could hear a number of regulators climbing into the treetops. Samson had a man in each hand; Abe had another, while Harry Needles and Alexander Ferguson were in possession of the man whom the dog had captured. The minister was our in the grove with his blood hound that was barking and growling under a tree. Jack Kelso arrived with a lantern. One of Samson's captives began swearing and struggling to get away. Samson gave him a little shake and bade him be quiet. The man uttered a cry of fear and pain and offered no more resistance. Stephen Nuckles came out of the grove.

"The rest o' that ar party done gone up-stairs to roost," said the minister. "I reckon my dog'll keep 'em thar. We better jest tote these men inter the house an' have a prayin' bee. I've got a right smart good chance, now, to whop ol' Satan."

They moved the raiders' horses. Then the party—save Harry Needles, who stayed in the grove to keep watch—took its captives into the cabin.

"You set here with this gun and if any o' them tries to get away you take a crack at him," said Samson, as they were leaving, in a voice intended for the men in the tree-tops.

The men and the four dejected raiders crowded into the cabin.

Sarah, who had heard the disturbance and wondered what it meant, met them at the door with a look of alarm.

"These men came to do us harm," Samson said to Sarah. "They are good fellows but they got an idea in their heads that we are bad folks. I hear that young Mr. Biggs set them up against us. Let's give them a bite to eat the first thing we do."

They took a look at the captives. Three of them were boys from eighteen to twenty years of age. The other was a lanky, bearded Tennessean some forty years old. One of the young lads had hurt his hand in the evening's frolic. Blood was dripping from it. The four sat silent and fearful and ashamed.

Sarah made tea and put it with meat and milk and doughnuts and bread and butter on the table. Samson washed and bandaged the boy's wound. The captives ate as if they were hungry while the minister went out to feed his dog. When the men had finished eating Samson offered them tobacco. The oldest man filled his pipe and lighted it with a coal. Not one of the captives had said a word until this tall Tennessean remarked after his pipe was going:

THOUSANDS OF SMALL PHOTOGRAPHS MAKE A MOVING PICTURE FILM

[A "Why" Article]

When the motion picture first came out a few years ago, it was such a wonderful thing nearly everybody took the trouble to find out why the figures in the pictures moved. This was not difficult then because there was a very noticeable flicker in the pictures and the secret was easily guessed. But today, with the movies so highly developed, it is more difficult to ferret it out.

A motion picture film is a series of small photographs about the size of a special delivery stamp, taken an instant apart. They are cast upon the silver screen rapidly one after another, so that the reflections melt into one picture, and the figures are made to move.

The tiny photographs are made on a long strip of celluloid called a film. It is wound on a big metal wheel, or reel. Thus, when we say a motion picture is a six reeler, we mean that six reels of film are used in presenting it.

A motion picture camera is a complicated affair. In it are two film reels, something like those in our own little cameras. It has a crank and an automatic shutter, also.

In photographing the actors the cameraman turns the crank. This winds the film from one reel to another, exposing it at rapid intervals with the automatic shutter which keeps opening and closing. In this way a different picture is taken on each inch of film.

In the laboratory the exposed film is developed and another, a "positive," is printed from it.

The projector, or lantern, in the theater, by which the pictures are thrown upon the screen, is also equipped with two film reels and a crank. The cranking, which is now usually done by electric motor, though in the pioneer days of the motion picture it was done by hand, winds the strip of celluloid pictures from one reel to another, passing it between a powerful light and lens. Each one of the small photographs is greatly magnified and the figures appear on the screen in life size, or larger, and with scarcely a flicker to mar the action.

EMPLOYED GIRLS OUTNUMBER WORKING BOYS

More fourteen, fifteen and sixteen year old girls in Evansville, Ind., are working outside of school than boys, according to the enrollment in a part time school for young people which recently began its second term there.

This condition is said to be due to the fact that it is now harder for boys to find work than it is for girls.

20 DOLLAR IDEAS

Backyard Gold Mine

Did you ever stop to think that around 'bout this time of year there might be some money in your neighbor's backyard, just waiting for you to come after it?

The winter's ashes, dumped near the alley, ought to be hauled away now that Spring is here.

All that paper in the corners of the fence should be cleaned out, the whole yard should be raked over thoroughly, and the trash burned in a bonfire. Perhaps a little grass seed should be sown here and there.

Go to Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Jones and the other neighbor ladies and tell them this. Make them a price for cleaning up their yards, estimating it on the amount of time and work you think you will have to put in.

Do a good job and you probably will be able to get orders from the same housewives to cut the lawns when summer comes.

DAILY HARDKNOT

The problem is to change one given word into another by altering one letter at a time, each alteration making a new word. The number of letters must always be the same, and the letters are always in the same order. For example, change "rage" to "pity" in five moves: rage, rate, pate, puts, pits, pity.

1—Change "lamp" to "fire" in four moves.

2—Change "brook" to "river" in 10 moves.

3—Change "sick" to "well" in 4 moves.

"There Are Smiles"

(By Dr. William E. Barton)

A distinguished man said in my hearing one day this week—"It is well enough to force yourself to join in the thoughtless chorus of those who sing of packing up their troubles in their old kitbags and smiling, smiling, smiling; but no kitbag is large enough to hold the world's troubles, nor is there at the present moment any ground for a smile. A baggage car will not hold our troubles; we should need a freight train."

BARTON

He said much more, but this will answer.

There is a superficial optimism from which we may well deliver ourselves. It is of that sort which led the Persian kings to decree that any man should be put to death if he came into the royal presence with a sorrowful countenance. It is of that sort which would heal the world's sore by turning our back upon it; stifling its cry of destitution and despair with jazz music.

I find ground for optimism in the fact that the average man I meet would rather do me a kindness than an injury; that the moral impulses of human life are on the whole conducive to good living, and that there is in every man the possibility, and in most men the desire, of being better.

There is no kitbag large enough to hold the world's troubles; they are real and very terrible. But the ships of the world are not great enough in their capacity to bear the good wishes and kindly deeds and golden hopes of mankind.

From the hollow, mechanical, thoughtless smile, may the good Lord deliver us; but for that faith that can "smile at Satan's rage and face a frowning world" as our grandmothers used to sing about it, let us thank God and take courage.

SPARTA KIWANIS CLUB ENTERTAINS MONROE FARMERS

200 Hear Talks on Roads and Crop; Supper Served by Women

SPARTA, Wis.—About two hundred farmers were guests of the Kiwanis club at their meeting held in the Armory. Besides numerous invited farmers, the members of the Monroe County Road school, which was being held in Sparta, were also present at the meeting. Supper was served by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion. Following the supper, Dr. Spencer D. Beebe entertained the company with some humorous vocal selections.

Mr. Donaghey talked on Highway Legislation, and Ford J. Allen, Dairy Commissioner of the Northwest Road, spoke briefly.

The principal speaker of the evening was C. P. Norgard of the State Department of Agriculture. He said that for several years, his department had been busy, engaged in making two blades of grass grow in Wisconsin, where but one had grown before, and now the Department was busy providing ways and means for the farmer to sell to advantage these two blades of grass, as well as how to produce them.

The meeting was very interesting, as are all the Kiwanis club gatherings.

MONSTER WAR CRAFT TO BE LAUNCHED AT NEW JERSEY YARDS

CAMDEN, N. J.—The superdreadnaught Colorado will be launched Tuesday at the yards of the New York Shipbuilding company. Mrs. Max Melville of Denver, Col., daughter of United States Senator Nicholson of that state, will act as sponsor for the great ship which with her sister ship, the Maryland, will rank as the most powerful American war craft.

Universities were unknown prior to the eight century and there is no authentic record of one prior to the twelfth century.

"FLU" IS REPORTED AMONG U. S. SOLDIERS IN OCCUPATION ZONE

COBLENZ.—Influenza in epidemic form has broken out here among soldiers belonging to the United States occupation army. The second battalion of the Eighth infantry has been quarantined by the medical authorities. Forty-five cases of the disease have been reported and it is said the attack of the malady is very severe. There have been no deaths from it so far.

LITTLE FALLS IS LAYING SHALE BED ON COUNTY ROAD

SPARTA, Wis.—The hauling of shale on the county roadbed in the town of Little Falls has been completed, commencing at the Robert Walker corners, and running west to where state trunk line No. 27, will cross the county road.

When the federal work, under way in Little Falls is completed, it should do away with all the sandy stretches of the road between Sparta and Black River Falls, except a short stretch of road east of Cataract. It is expected this will be improved during the coming summer and fall, but at present it is tied up by federal work.

Neil Hanson, chairman of the town of Little Falls, supervised the work of hauling the shale. The road will be rodded and put in shape for the use of the public, as soon as the weather permits.

Fire destroyed the finest residence property in the vicinity of the Milwaukee depot on Sunday. The house was built many years ago by John A. Chandler, the first agent of the Milwaukee railway in Sparta. For many years it was known too as the Ait. Wilson place. It was owned and occupied by Charles Frosch, employed on the Viroqua branch. The building was completely destroyed but the contents were saved from the lower floor. Most of that on the upper floor was more or less damaged.

The Screen

AT THE THEATERS TODAY

Rivoli—Sylvia Breamer and Rosemary Theby in "Unseen Forces," and Mermaid comedy, "Moonshine."

Majestic—Sessue Hayakawa in "His Birthright," Kinograms and vaudeville —Crouch Richard's Trio in a spectacular musical novelty.

Riviera—Sheldon Lewis in "The Silent Barrier"; Ford Weekly.

Casino—Lyons and Moran in "A Shocking Night"; serials "The Lost City"; Fox News.

Strand—"Out of the Snows," played by a big cast; comedy, "Love and Gasoline."

HERE IS A NEW ONE

Sessue Hayakawa, the most famous screen celebrity of his race, like every Oriental of high-caste, is not easily flustered. During the production of "His Birthright" which is now playing at the Majestic however, the Japanese star had a shock that affected even his stoical temperament.

As he was retiring for the night after a strenuous day's work at the studio, he discovered a huge rattlesnake snugly snoozing in his bed. Hayakawa hastily removed himself from the room and summoned Togo Kumagi his newly imported valet, to assist in removing the reptile.

"The honorable snake is my pet," explained Togo.

"To escape from box where I keep him."

"But what are you keeping him for?" asked Hayakawa.

"The Honorable Director Worthington he inform me after July 1st there is great inquiry for honorable snakebite. Togo make lots of yen by supplying honorable snake-bite at so many yen for honorable bite."

RIVOLI THEATER

"Unseen Forces," a powerful screen story abounding in dramatic and pictorial values, which opened an engagement at the Rivoli Theater last night, is one of the most fascinating motion picture entertainments ever offered to the amusement loving public of this community.

The story is something new to the film world for it concerns the experiences of a beautiful young woman who is possessed of an uncanny power which enables her at times to foresee future incidents. It is wholesome and more than that, it brings a comforting message to many. "Moonshine a clever comedy is another feature of this program.

"THE SILENT BARRIER"

The snow scenes of "The Silent Barrier" playing at the Riviera today have been made under the eye of Ernest de Ballets, the Swiss expert engaged by Mr. Burr to insure correct atmosphere for the St. Moritz stunts, involving mountain climbing, ski running, skating and sensational pursuits. Some of these scenes are of most unusual character and all of them belong to the story.

"A SHOCKING NIGHT"

Why long for an alcoholic mixture when one can enjoy a laughing cocktail at the Casino today served by those frolicsome dispensers of joy, Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran and containing more exhilaration to the dram than any concoction ever devised by the white jacketed individual behind the mahogany board. This cocktail is in five parts and is entitled "A Shocking Night."

"OUT OF THE SNOWS"

"Out of the Snows" written by E. Lord Corbett and directed by Ralph Ince, who also enacts the leading role, will be the chief attraction at the Strand today. As the title indicates the story is one of the far North Country where the laws of Nature are more in evidence than the laws of man. Mr. Ince portrays the role of Robert Holliday, a member of the R. N. W. M. P. who finds that when the paths of love and duty cross, the choice of which to take is most perplexing. Zena Keefe, plays opposite Mr. Ince, and a list of well-known and capable players fill out the balance of the cast.

"FLYING CRUISERS" UNDER CONSTRUCTION FOR GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON.—Details of an entirely new type of seaplane which can either fly or cruise as a warship have been made public here. Two of these ships are being built for the air ministry. The vessels are said to be much like small ships with wings added. They are larger and stronger than any seagoing aircraft yet constructed, and each will carry a crew of seven with emplacements for machine guns.

The vessels are being so constructed that, while being light, the hulls are sufficiently seaworthy to ride out the roughest waves. They will be capable of co-operation with the navy and joining in all maneuvers without a parent vessel.

A HOME MADE GRAY HAIR REMEDY

You Can Make a Better Gray Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy

Gray, streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary.

Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1-4 ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB ENTERTAINED AT NURSES' HOME

AS A COMPLIMENT to Miss Harriet McKinstry, secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association who has been greatly interested in the progress of the Business Women's club, Miss Ella C. Ingwerson, Miss Elizabeth Osterhout and Dr. Mary Fisher Houck most delightfully entertained the members of the club Monday night at the Elenora Guild Nurses' Home of the La Crosse Hospital. Dinner was served at half past six, places being laid for thirty-three. Twenty-six guests were seated at the larger table with the honor guest at the head. Her place was marked by a handsome corsage bouquet of pink roses, sweet peas and forget-me-nots. The table decorations were large vases of roses and sweet peas in pink. It was a great pleasure to the members of the club to welcome as their guest, Dr. Sara A. Nimocks, who is now located at Winona. At the close of the meal attractive song booklets, arranged by Miss Mary Damon, were distributed, and a season of happy songs followed, interspersed by club yells, given with a vim which merrily spiced the evening's entertainment with much jollity.

Following the dinner the regular routine business of the club was taken up. It was announced that a call had been sent out inviting the clubs of the state to send representatives to a convention to be held this coming week at Milwaukee, when it was the purpose to form a state federation, heretofore the clubs being affiliated only with the national organization. No delegate will represent the La Crosse club, but it is anticipated that the local club will become a member in case the organization is accomplished. The meeting closed with a club song to the tune of "On Wisconsin."

STOMACH ON A STRIKE

"Pape's Diapepsin" puts Sour, Gassy, Acid Stomachs in order at once!

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs so little at drug stores.

ONALASKA PASTOR OPENS SERVICES AT LOCAL CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Walker Speaks on "Our Advocate" at First Methodist Church

Rev. W. T. Walker spoke at the First Methodist Church last night in the first of the Holy Week services. He will continue each night until Thursday. His topic Monday evening was "Our Advocate."

The text was from John's First Epistle. "We have an advocate, Jesus Christ, The Righteous."

The speaker in opening spoke of the similarity to be found in the Gospel, the Epistles, and the Revelation of John, a similarity which marked them as from the same author. Their object was to set forth the divine character and mission of Jesus. The topics treated in each case were similar. The motive for action was the same, viz. the love of God. Love like a golden cord ran through all the writings of John.

Man's need of an advocate is plainly taught in the Bible. In Genesis we read that "The imagination of Man's heart is evil continually." Jeremiah speaks of the human heart as deceitful above all things, and Jesus said, "If ye being evil, etc" indicating that evil in the life was taken for granted.

Some who object to the Bible teaching surely find that teaching corroborated in history. We commonly think of England as one of the most civilized of Christian countries yet 64 of the 126 years between the reigns of James II and George III were spent in war, while gambling, drunkenness, prize-fighting, and lust were all but universal.

Moreover we know in our own hearts the response that we make to many forms of evil and that the scripture is true which says, "All have sinned" The commandment is that we shall love God with the whole heart and we all know that naturally none of us do that.

There is a gulf between us and God which we cannot cross alone. But in Jesus we have a helper, one to speak and intercede for us.

He knows the law, and has met all requirements of it. He has humanity in all its need and has never lost a case committed to his care. The failures among Christians are often pointed out but far more remarkable are the cases of those who from the lowest places of vice crime, and immorality have by the grace of Christ been brought back to God.

"He is able to save to the uttermost" and if some of us have been kept in decency from childhood all the more credit and glory to God.

Prof. C. A. Gabriel, Gospel Singer, will sing at the opening of the meeting tonight.

QUEEN OF RUMANIA DENIES SHE WANTS "TINO" TO RETIRE

ATHENS.—By The Associated Press.—Reports that Queen Marie of Rumania was working for the dethronement of King Constantine of Greece and the ascendancy of Crown Prince George and his wife, formerly Princess Elizabeth of Rumania, are without foundation, the queen declared Monday upon her return to Athens from a tour in Northern Greece. She asked The Associated Press to refute these stories.

During the conversation, Queen Marie declared she believed that the abdication of King Constantine at this time would cause discontent among the people, and possible disturbances.

SALE OF BEER ON PRESCRIPTION NOT FEASIBLE IS CLAIM

Conditions Under Which Druggists Must Sell Make Plan Impossible, Say Officials

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The expected sale of beer on prescriptions will prove to be a fizzle, Federal officials said Tuesday. They cited conditions which must attend its sale which would make extensive sale practically impossible, they said.

In the first place, they asserted, the druggists would be compelled to keep it on their premises. This is because of a provision in the Volstead act that prescriptions must be filled personally by a registered pharmacist. This, they claimed, would prevent the introduction of the proposed system whereby a druggist upon receiving a prescription would telephone to a brewery and give instructions to have the beer delivered at the patient's residence. A registered pharmacist would have to get the beer from a room in the pharmacy and give it to the patient.

This would mean that the druggist would be compelled to have a large amount of space on his premises to be used in storing beer. Few drug stores have that much space to spare, officials said.

The plan also suggests difficulties for the patient, they said. He would have to provide an automobile or some other vehicle for carrying the beer home unless he wanted to carry it himself.

Another difficulty is the fact that retail druggists are the only ones who are allowed to sell as much as five gallons of alcoholic liquor at one time. The ordinary case of beer contains 24 pints which is three gallons. Thus, a prescription could not be for any amount in excess of one case. If one can get a case of wine which contains a much larger percentage of alcohol than beer on a prescription, it is unlikely that any person would get prescriptions for beer, it was said.

Many druggists have said that they would not handle beer, officials said, and there seemed to be a general difficulty in the drug trade in regard to the proposed sale of beer.

COMMONER DISAVOWS ANY FURTHER DESIGN ON THE PRESIDENCY

MIAMI, Fla.—William J. Bryan made it plain here Tuesday that he was speaking facetiously and in the past tense when he referred at a Young Women's Christian Association banquet to his presidential aspirations.

Mr. Bryan was quoted as having that that with women voting he was sure he would be elected. He explained today that he said "would have been" elected instead of "would be."

BLAINE'S I. AND R. PLAN IS VICTORIOUS ON THE FIRST LAP

MADISON, Wis.—The initiative and referendum proposal of Governor John J. Blaine was victorious in the first move made for its passage in the senate Tuesday morning, when by a vote of 13 to 12 the measure was sent to engrossment and third reading. Action came after a substitute amendment complying with the direct recommendations of the governor, and supported by labor and the Nonpartisan league had been accepted.

INSIDE FACTS ABOUT ADVERTISING

The A. A. C.
A Test in Little
It Pays You
Millions of People
To Trace an Ad

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

Some of the highest-paid men and women in America are employed in the writing of advertisements. The reason is that the work requires rare skill and knowledge, tact and salesmanship.

The usual advertisement reaches millions of people, and a great deal depends on the interest and impression it creates.

Advertisers generally figure cost and result very closely. The results of store advertising show immediately in sales of the items offered. Mail order advertising is easily traced. Many individual ads are traced by a coupon, showing how one ad compares with another in bringing inquiries for samples, etc.

All advertising, to be continued, must justify itself by results.

Most national advertisers test their ads in small communities before using them in a large and costly way. They learn how the thousands respond before approaching the millions.

Ads which fail to impress people in a large way are discarded.

Most advertisements, therefore, contain facts of proved interest to many people. Every large newspaper, every day, prints many advertisements which would interest you.

If you fail to read them you are losing money or missing facts you should know.

Statements made in advertisements are usually dependable. Reliable advertisers never misrepresent or exaggerate.

That would be fatal to success. Most large newspapers carefully guard their advertising columns. All advertisements are censored. Anything apparently untrue or misleading, anything unfair or opposed to public interest will cause an ad to be rejected.

The Associated Advertising Clubs of the World also maintain, at great expense, a vigilance committee. This is supported by the advertisers and publishers to maintain and foster public confidence in advertising. This committee is constantly occupied in watching for and investigating untrue statements in advertisements. Complaints made by competitors are sifted to the bottom. Questioned statements must be proved, else altered or omitted. If not, hundreds of newspapers will refuse the advertising.

In flagrant cases legal action is taken against the advertiser.

Thus advertisements are interesting, important and true. They could not otherwise be profitable.

It will pay you well to scan them daily and to read the facts about things you buy or that you might need or enjoy.

NAME COMMITTEE TO PROBE COMMISSION RULE IN WISCONSIN

Solons Appointed to Carry Out Changes Suggested by Governor Blaine

MADISON, Wis.—The commission form of government in Wisconsin is due for a thorough airing by the special legislative committee appointed to carry out the suggestions of Governor John J. Blaine for consolidation and elimination. The two upper house members have expressed themselves as determined to probe to the bottom of the problem despite any attitude that may be shown by the members of the lower house, who will be in a majority.

Speaker Riley S. Young has not named the assembly representatives although two weeks have elapsed since a resolution passed both houses calling for the investigation. It is judged certain that he will choose conservative assemblymen who will not be interested in radical changes.

"We wish to get under way with the investigation and lay the groundwork for a thorough and comprehensive study of the commissions and departments in the Wisconsin government," Senator Roethe, a senate member declared. He is firm in the belief that a great reduction in the personnel of commissions and in their number can be made. Senator Roethe at one time ran for the gubernatorial nomination on the platform of reduction in the number of commissions.

Senator Severson, the other senate member, is fully as interested in attacking the problem and feels that there will be a recommendation for drastic changes from the present situation.

"If the assembly members, with their majority, hold back and are unwilling to ask for sweeping changes, should we find them necessary, there will be a minority report stating the situation clearly," he said.

Both of the senate members are known to be actively favorable to a marked reduction in the number of state employes and to favor a cut in the number of commissions.

CHICKEN FOR DINNER

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Nick Rogers, mining engineer, came riding in from the mountains to his lonely shack in Peter Valley. Ah Sing, his Chinese cook, was grinning in the doorway, with a pail of hot water in one hand and clean towels dangling from the other.

Nick sniffed the air hungrily. "What have we got for dinner tonight?" he wanted to know.

"Schicken—chop suey—um—velly good—rice pudding, velly fine," grinned the cook as he went away with the horse, for he was hostler, sometimes and cook most of the time.

"Chicken again?" groaned Nick, scrubbing vigorously away in the tent he had dedicated for use as a bathroom. "Miles from civilization, and while we keep no fowls, that heathen Chinese produces chicken five times a week. It's worth investigating."

Ah Sing came to toss pails of cold water over him in lieu of a shower bath, and so Nick's curiosity found vent in words, "Where do you get chickens?" he asked.

The cook flicked his tapered fingers vaguely to the south and stopped further inquiry with a cold douche.

"Velly hot day," he smiled pleasantly.

"Get out of here!" commanded Nick, cressly, and he completed his toilet and went into dinner resolving to ferret out the chicken farm whence Ah Sing drew his supply of poultry. There was deer over in the blue hills district, but he had been too busy to go over there, and his companion, Billy Ware, had been called to a distant city by illness in his family. The supply of tinned meats had given out, and lately it had been chicken four or five times a week and bacon on other days.

"Velly glood dinner?" grinned the cook as Nick pushed back his chair.

"Fine. How much did you pay for chickens, Ah Sing? I must owe you some money."

"Ah — friend mine — have velly much chickens."

"Ugly old beggar that," muttered Nick as he lighted his pipe. "Wonder how any friends of his happen to be here in the wilds among the host owls and wild turkeys." He sauntered away from the camp stopping at the spring for a drink of cold water. As he turned away he noticed a very narrow trail leading away through the long grass to the left. It was a faintly defined path, as if few people passed that way, for the ragweed and wild wheat were disturbed but not trodden. Another path led to the broad trail which crossed the base of the mountain and a third one led to Ah Sing's cabin hidden among the junipers.

Nick swung about and went knee high in the wild growth that fringed the new trail. Back in the cabin Ah Sing was on his trembling knees praying to the "white man's joss," for he had seen Nick walking through the forbidden path, and he knew that a day of reckoning was close at hand.

The path led around a spur of the hills and dipped in and out of Peter Valley and finally ended in a great heap of broken bowlders, but two of the boulders form a gateway to the valley, green and fertile watched by the waters of Little Peter creek, and shaded by giant oaks and chestnuts. At the end of the path between the bowlders, was a roughly constructed gate and sitting on the gate was a girl with a shotgun across her knees.

"Hands up!" she said crisply. Nick obeyed promptly. "Nothing doing here—poor as a church mouse," he bantered.

She was a pretty girl, a mighty pretty girl, he decided, as he gave her look for hostile look. Her dark hair was pinned close to her shapely head and the color in her olive cheeks palpitated with her swift breathing. Her firm lips were vivid coral and her large, melting hazel eyes gave him a dizzy feeling. He had never found time to bother with girls, but it would never be a bother to gaze at his girl, she was so lovely. She wore khaki riding breeches and shirt and a red silk tie made a splash of color.

"Well?" she asked insolently.

"Howdy, stranger," is what we say around here," answered Nick mildly.

"I thought perhaps you were looking for chickens," she threw at him.

"Chickens!"

"Chickens!"

Nick looked at his pipe, rapped it on the rock and smiled oddly.

"Do you keep chickens here?" he asked.

"Keep them? You ought to know that we can't do that!" she blazed.

"What do I know about it?" he was beginning when he remembered.

Chicken four days a week and between times bacon!

"Do you mean to insinuate that I—steal your chickens?" he inquired.

"Your Chinaman does. We have missed them for weeks. I caught him red-handed yesterday."

"I am more sorry than I can say. I have been terribly busy for a couple of months and never questioned about his supplies—merely paid the bills. I honestly didn't know there was a chicken house within fifty miles, but suddenly tonight I questioned my cook and he said they were a present from a friend, so I was so suspicious that I started out to find Ah Sing's friend, and here I am!"

"He has no friends here," she said in a milder tone. "You see, my father is here for his health, and he values the chickens—they are his hobby. I was really gunning for Ah Sing tonight!"

"Please don't harm him—he's a mighty good cook and we could never get another one, but I'll square him—I'll leave him to me! My partner and I are trying to locate the old Wizard mine for John Perriss & Co.—"

"John Perriss is my father," she interrupted. "He told me about the mine yesterday; won't you come in and see him now? We had no idea that our chicken-loving neighbors were our own engineers!" She blushed deeply as she lowered the weapon. "It's safe now," she smiled.

"Safe?" Nick lowered his hands, but as he followed her down the valley to the Ferriss camp he told himself that never was a simple, hard-working bachelor in greater danger than when confronting those eyes, that smile—he was glad that Billy was a married man. "Hurray!" he chuckly insanely.

"Why are you so happy?" she wanted to know.

"No more chicken dinners!"

"You can come and fish here at the creek," she suggested.

"I'll do that," he said emphatically.

* * * *

Late that night Ah Sing heard a strange rushing through the underbrush near the new trail. Then his employer broke into the cabin, his face radiant with some inner joy.

The terrified cook dodged behind the table and broke into shrill protestations. "No more schicken—never no more—heap velly, boss"—— His voice died away in a feeble shriek as his boss grasped his precious queue.

"No more chicken is nigh—we'll have fish!"

"Flish—him glood—you clatchee flish little cleek—sabe!" trembled Ah Sing.

Then, to his amazement, his boss caught his arms and danced him wildly about the cabin. "You shall dance at our wedding, Ah Sing," panted Nick, "so I'll begin to teach you now."

"Me sabe—no more schicken," droned Ah Sing as they whirled around.

FIVE-CENT BOUNTY ON RATS PROPOSED BY BADGER SOLON

MADISON, Wis.—Rats are the most destructive of all animals and a bounty should be paid for killing them Assemblyman Weitzenhiller declared to the senate state affairs committee Monday afternoon. A measure amending the existing statute to include rats as destructive animals and to allow counties and townships the option of paying 5 cents bounty for every rat killed is proposed by Assemblyman Weitzenhiller.

"Rats cause a loss of $500,000,000 annually in the United States," Mr. Weitzenhiller said. "More lives have been lost because of rats than because of all wars and pestilence in history."

Because city councils are not included as being allowed to pay a like bounty, the committee asked permission to amend the proposal to this effect. The bill in the original form has already passed the assembly.

Other animals and birds now listed as destructive are gophers, rattlesnakes, crows and hawks.

The senator will visit in Madison for several days before returning to the capital. He may address a meeting of farmers and laborers here on Friday, although no definite expression has been given.

The fishing rods were recovered in the homes of the boys. The court released the boys in the custody of their parents for a further hearing next Saturday.

WINTER LINGERS

WASHINGTON.—Winter still lingers in the lap of spring, government weather experts find, despite the summer-like temperatures of the last day or two. FREEHOFF MARKET BILL DEFEATED IN BADGER ASSEMBLY

Administration Measure is Put Over Until Tuesday of Next Week

MADISON, Wis.—With brief debate the assembly Tuesday took up the administration and Freehoff marketing bills, killed the latter, killed an amendment which sought to pull some of the teeth from the administration bill and then on motion of Assemblyman Ingalls, of Racine, laid the measure over for a week when it will be the special order of business at 7:30 p. m.

Twenty seats were vacant when the debate began, and with lines closely drawn neither side was anxious to face a final clash. On the one test vote in the administration measure the Blaine forces mustered 46 votes against 37 to defeat an amendment by Assemblyman Matheson, of Janesville, which sought to strike out a provision giving the marketing commission power to hold court, hear evidence and render decisions in cases of alleged unfair or fraudulent practices. Mr. Matheson declared the provision robbed the defendant of his defenses. The bill as drawn was defended by Assemblyman Dahl, administration floor leader.

An Easter Such As Fashion Has Not Seen In Years Is Just Around the Corner

The call of new apparel for Easter is at hand. Throughout the land women are going to dress their best. Never is it so gratifying to possess new clothes and to be smartly dressed as when you know everyone is interested in what everyone else wears, when you know that you are attired in keeping with the "fitness of things."

Easter is a time honored "new clothes" occasion. In the heart of every woman it inspires an intense longing for new apparel that is difficult to suppress—and it need not be suppressed! For our Easter displays ring with the joyous note of low prices that are as interesting as the modes themselves.

New Suits for Easter

Women who select Suits for their detail of expert tailoring and of fabric will be quick to see that these Suits are unusual in this respect. Indeed it is such Suits as these which materially lessen the expenditure for the Spring wardrobe. These Suits are of Twill Cord or Tricotine, with lavish use of embroidery, some braid and beading. Box coats. Directoire styles. Coats with the smart new flare—make this collection most unusual to choose from.

Easter Frocks of Canton Crepe

Paris sponsors them! Hence they must be correct. They are correct because they are most practical, serviceable and lovely. Often one finds two color combinations—navy and grey, or copenhagen, or tangerine, are unusually smart. Simple peasant Blouses and voluminous Skirts bear a precious burden of embroidery that is as vivid and interesting as Spring itself. More conservative models are designed for street wear.

Wraps to Ward Off Spring Winds Are Moderately Priced

Beauty abounds in the new Wraps and it would seem that designers had tried to make them fitting complements to the smart frocks which they accompany. Capes and Wraps along voluminous lines predominate, large of sleeve and becoming of collar. Embroidery, fringe, cording, use of contrasting fabric and kid are trimmings most felt. Very specialized Wraps for afternoon, for street, for motoring and for sports are much in evidence as well as the Coat which because of its conservative lines serves many purposes with great ability. The beige, grey and blue tones in marvella, orlando, velours and duvetyn are most popular.

La Crosse Folks at University

Eight students from the vicinity of La Crosse were numbered among the 130 students who graduated from the short course of the college of agriculture at Wisconsin last week when the term was completed. The Wisconsin agricultural short course is the oldest in America and has graduated about 6,000 students since 1885.

The eight students who graduated are: Clarence Beye, Coon Valley; Floyd C. Bird, West Salem; Roland S. Berry, Kilbourn; Lee M. Hammond, Camp Douglas; John J. McKenna, Viroqua; Alvin L. Vandervort, Tomah; Lawrence Suttie, Galesville, and Walter S. Stamn, Mondovi.

Historians of the La Crosse Normal school will come to Madison for the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical association which will be held on April 14-16. This is the first meeting of the association to be held in Madison. "History of the West, from the Alleghenies to the Rockies," will be the subject to be discussed at the meetings.

Lora Palmer of La Crosse was another student approached by the inquiring reporter of the Wisconsin State Journal for her opinion on modern dancing. She said: "I have heard remarks that modern dancing isn't as graceful as older dances, but I certainly don't see anything objectionable in it. There is nothing wrong about the dances today, although they, like anything else, may be carried to extremes. I see no need for regulation."

Graduates of the university are now living in every state of the union, in Alaska, the Canal Zone, Cuba, Hawaii and 57 foreign countries, according to a new alumni directory completed up to the class of 1919. It is the first revised edition since 1911 issue and contains a total of 16,750 names of those who have received degrees at Wisconsin, including 11,338 first degrees and 2,118 higher degrees.

H. H. Wheaton of La Crosse has been elected to the internal relations conference of the University of Wisconsin. The election of new members was made at the first meeting held since the declaration of war in 1917. The conference, which is composed of professors and students in various departments and is one of a group of such conferences in other universities, is affiliated with the Institute of International Education.

Dozens of La Crosse students are occupied with the work of several colleges collecting material for the university exposition to be held the latter part of next month. Work of Wisconsin graduates who have gained distinction in various fields is being collected for display in the gymnasium and annex.

A mounted artillery unit of the Reserve Officers' Training corps will be established at the university as soon as the consignment of 16 horses is received from the war department.

Practically every La Crosse student enrolled in the college of engineering took part in the annual engineers' parade held in commemoration of St. Patrick on Saturday. About a score of floats lauding the exploits of St. Patrick and satarizing the other colleges on the campus were a feature of the parade. Harold Cribe of La Crosse drove a horse pulling a wagon containing rubbish as the remains of the commerce school. An old-fashioned bar lined with customers depicted the law students getting by the annual bar exams while a hearse was the silent testimony to the work of the home economics department and a student who ate her own cooking. A convict garbed in stripes and held down by an iron ball was paraded with the sign, "Another lawyer's mistake."

Marie Christian and Molly Hodge of La Crosse were in Madison during the last few days of the week visiting friends and looking over the Madison school system.

Albert Selelstad visited students at the university for a few days last week, stopping off on his way to visit relatives at La Crosse.

The first outdoor scrimmage of the varsity baseball squad showed George P. Ruediger of Fountain City playing at third place, which position he alternated with Captain Alvah Elliott of football fame. Ruediger is sure of a place on the varsity squad because of his showing with the frosh last season.

Coach Meinert has taken his frosh candidates out of doors for regular workouts. Scrimmage between Meinert's frosh and the varsity will probably start the first week of April.

Lawrence Brady, former grad and executive secretary to the Governor had Governor J. J. Blaine over to the P. A. D. house for dinner one night last week. Governor Blaine told of his experiences while attending Valparaiso University. Justice M. B. Rosenberry, honorary member of the fraternity, was also a guest at the dinner.

JIMMY SMITH ROLLS LOW IN DOUBLES OF A. B. C. TOURNAMENT

Jimmy and Partner, Fred Smith, Roll Total of 1079 in Doubles Events of Tourney

BUFFALO, N. Y.—For the first time in years of participation in the American bowling congress tournaments, Jimmy Smith, world's champion match game bowler from Milwaukee, failed to make his usual showing here Monday afternoon.

Paired with Fred Smith, Jimmy and his partner totaled 1,079 in doubles which is way out of the money in this event. Jimmy dropped the wood for a count of 580 in this event. In the singles Jimmy showed some of his old time form and started out in his first game with a 211 total. This pulled him up for a 600 count, with his other games totaling 181 and 181.

It was simply a case of not being able to get the pins. Due to Jimmy's favorite ball being a little oversized, he was forced to use a pickup and this is held to be largely due to his failure to come back in the matinee events.

Jimmy has never been able to do much high shooting in the five-man event, because of it being too slow for him. He has always in years past been able to come back in the matinee events and cop off the honors in the all events, but failed to accomplish this feat at Buffalo.

In a special match game on public alleys late Monday afternoon Fred and Jimmy Smith lost to Hollenbeck and Glasser of Buffalo 1,112 to 1,102.

Other Milwaukee bowlers came right ahead and were dropping the pins with great accuracy. Eleven pairs up to late Monday afternoon had rolled themselves into the money column and were stepping along lively with some good 1,100 and 1,200 counts. Twelve of the Cream city stars rolled into the money in the singles. Sievert and Murphy topped in the doubles with 1,221.

FLORIDA PINMEN COMPETE IN FIVE MAN CLASS TODAY

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Bowlers from Jacksonville, Fla., will compete in the five-man class of the American Bowling Congress tournament tonight. Cleveland will be represented by twelve teams, Detroit by five, Rochester four and Schenectady by two.

Local bowlers will fill out the two squads to make up the 32 teams.

The Central alleys of Canton, Ohio, were high among the five-man rollers last night with a total of 2,838 pins. Redmonds Gasoline five of Schenectady were next with a total of 2,826.

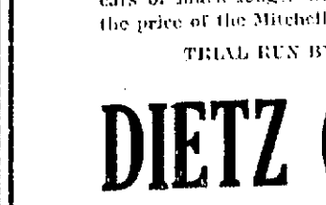

GRAND JURYMEN TO GET BASEBALL SCANDAL AGAIN

CHICAGO, Ill.—New grand jury investigation of the 1919 world's series baseball scandal, which was started last week, was resumed yesterday when Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman finished reading the minutes of the last grand jury investigation of the matter.

Several important witnesses, including Ban B. Johnson, president of the American league, are expected to be called before the grand jury today.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The house ways and means committee voted to take up the Fordney emergency tariff bill at the special session in the same form Wilson vetoed it.

ITEMS FROM FIELD OF SPORT

Joe Lynch, New York bantam champion, and Young Pinchot Charleroi will meet in a ten round bout in Pittsburgh March 28.

Hans Wagner, new athletic director of Carnegie Tech., had his baseball squad on the field yesterday. He will turn out the best team the institution has ever known, he declares.

Walter Mails, heavy duty mound man for the Cleveland Indians, is temporarily out of the game at the training camp with a sore arm. Manager Speaker reports the remainder of his aggregation in first-class condition.

Walter Schmidt, star pitcher of the Pittsburgh Nationals, who has been unaccounted for since the opening of the training season, has reported at the Pirate camp in Hot Springs. He was detained by business on the Pacific coast.

Home runs featured the practice of the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday. Nine homers were registered in a game between the regulars and the Yanigans. The former won 14 to 7. Barnhart, Whitted and Tierney each gathered a pair of four-base hits.

Ralph Schaefer, a recruit of the Cincinnati Reds, will be transferred to the Toledo association team. Manager Bresnahan will use him in the infield and Manager Moran of the Reds wants the youth in regular play this season.

Catcher Eddie Ainsmith, veteran of the Detroit Tigers, has reported for his training. He has been conditioning in California since he returned from the Orient, where he worked with an exhibition team.

Manager Cobb of the Tigers has secured authority to carry 25 men on his 1921 roster. Heretofore only 22 men have been carried. Cobb was reluctant to release some of his more promising recruits.

Fred Beebe, veteran twirler of the Louisville association club, has been released to the Wichita club. He has not played with the Colonels since 1918 but was recently reinstated.

The New York Giants open a two-game series with the Houston, Texas, leaguers today.

Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, a brother of Mike, and an aspirant to the heavyweight championship, will meet Paul Samson of New York in a 15-round bout tonight in Gotham. It will be the first appearance of the heavyweight member of the family in a New York ring.

Charles C. Ramsey, a member of the American polo team entered for competition with English teams for the world's championship in June, sailed today on the Aquitania. Other members will leave next month. Fifty ponies are now in training in English stables for the American team.

Joe Morris, who entered the White Sox training camp at Waxahachie as "The Tulsa Iron Man," pitched against the second team yesterday, allowing only four hits. Professor Jorgenson, the Kimballton, Iowa, ex-superintendent of schools, allowed the regulars eleven hits.

The Chicago Cubs complete their training today and leave Pasadena for Los Angeles, where they will rest between play in a series of exhibition games. Manager Evers reports his men in top-notch condition.

Rocky Kansas was given the decision over Willie Jackson in ten rounds at New York last night.

Slicker Parks, star University of Michigan pitcher, yesterday confessed playing professional ball and resigned the captaincy of the Michigan team.

Harry T. Laney was sentenced yesterday at Philadelphia, to three months in jail for having threatened to injure Man-o'-War, noted race horse.

THREATENS TO HARM MAN O' WAR; GETS 3 MONTHS IN JAIL

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Harry T. Laney of Chester, Pa., who threatened to harm Man-o'-War, Samuel D. Riddle's famous race horse, unless he was paid $10,000, was sentenced to three months in the Mercer county jail at Trenton, N. J. Laney pleaded guilty. He said he planned to force payment of the money, but did it only "for curiosity, to see what the Riddles would do."

CONNIE DOESN'T WORRY

MOBILE, Ala.—While Bob Hasty is starring with the Athletics in spring training, Mobile and Atlanta clubs are arguing as to which club is entitled to the $2,500 Connie Mack is ready to pay for the scrapping ball player.

No, sister, the "hit and run" doesn't concern boxing. It's part of baseball.

TWINS IN MAT FINAL; REFEREE CANNOT TELL WINNER FROM LOSER

LEXINGTON, Va.—Mr. Gotton of Memphis is lightweight wrestling champion of Washington and Lee university, but whether his first name is Henry or Nicholas nobody but the 119 pound Memphis twins knows.

They are as alike as peas in a pod and after winning their way through the tryouts to the annual championship match, fought it out clad in exactly similar gymnasium suits. Somebody won, but it looked like a man wrestling with himself and the referee would not take a chance on identification. He merely announced that the championship had been won by Mr. Gotton" and the audience roared approval.

YALE MEN TOO FAST

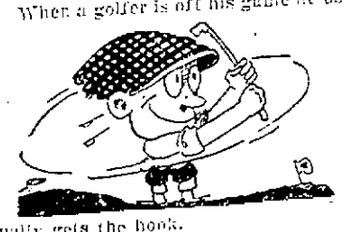

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Yale is too speedy in the swimming game. Entries for the New England intercollegiate championships, promoted by Massachusetts Institute of Technology, have been returned with the explanation that Yale men were too fast for other colleges.

INSIDER SAYS

"It's the spirit that wins ball games," says John Heydler, head of the National League. Not to mention pinch hits.

Mr. Pessimist avers that the last snowstorm of the year is holding off until opening days.

When a golfer is off his game he usually gets the hook.

There's a For Rent sign hanging outside the meeting quarters of the stove league.

A ball star, though not a wrestler, may go to the mat with his manager.

There are plenty of laps in an indoor track meet but the runners can't sit down in them.

Baseball statisticians have missed a good chance; no one's ever thought of keeping track of the number of bats busted in a season.

THREE CUB ROOKIES "HOMEWARD BOUND" NEXT WEDNESDAY

Catcher and Two Pitchers First to Hear Rattle of the Old Tin Can

PASEDENA, Cal.—Manager Johnny Evers has begun to wield the scheduler and has lopped off three Cubbies who will start home day after tomorrow. The first to hear the rattle of the old tin can were Frank Meyers, a catcher, and Jim Colbe, and Frank Kenny pitchers. All three are "native sons" or bear "native sons" of Chicago.

A catcher named Dill, of Brawley Cal., is entitled to first honors for being canned this spring. Speed Martin told Johnny Evers how good he was and the kid lasted three days.

The Cubs conclude their training at Pasadena tomorrow. Exhibition games have been arranged for the remainder of the week at Vernon, so King Brady will pack the fouls tomorrow afternoon and sail for the Los Angeles suburb.

The Cubs will continue living here and will commute each day, leaving Pasadena at 10:30 a. m.

Bosses of Club Meet

President William L. Veeck, Director William Wrigley Jr., and A. D. Lasker, a member of the Cubs' committee of advice, held an all afternoon session and at its conclusion said there was nothing to give out.

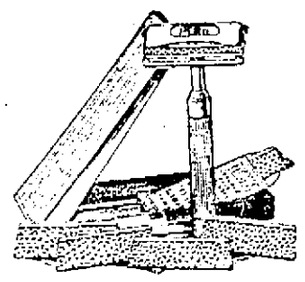

They are taking no part in the disposition of players, that matter being left entirely in the hands of Manager John Evers.

Hydro-Electric Power Plant at Prairie du Sac

A Safe Wisconsin Hydro-Electric Investment
Available in $100-$500-$1000 Amounts
Yielding 8%

Wisconsin River Power Company

Ten-Year 7% Collateral Gold Notes, Series "A"
Due February 1, 1931

Price 93¼ and interest, yielding 8%

The advantages of generation of electricity by hydro-electric developments were never better illustrated than during the past several years when labor and fuel—two inconsiderable items in hydro-electrical generation—were at such high levels.

From the plant above illustrated radiate miles of transmission lines which carry electrical energy to a large portion of Central and Southern Wisconsin, lighting its homes, turning its factory wheels, running its street cars and performing hundreds of other functions formerly accomplished more tediously and expensively by other means. This 300 foot power house and 1000 foot dam, spanning the Wisconsin River near Prairie du Sac, is one of the largest and most efficient hydro-electric plants in Wisconsin.

The widely diversified demands of the territory served by this Company provide a sure and increasing market for its output. The Company supplies electrical energy at wholesale, under long term contracts, to a large portion of Central and Southern Wisconsin; a substantial proportion of the power required for the operation of street and interurban railways in and around Milwaukee; the total light and power requirements of the Madison Gas & Electric Company; the major portion of the electric light and power requirements of the Janesville Electric Company, the Wisconsin Light & Heat Company and several other public utility companies, as well as the requirements of the Samson Tractor Company, a subsidiary of the General Motors Corporation.

In addition to the assurances of safety afforded by nature of the Company's business and the splendid territory which it serves, these notes are secured by deposit of $150 of the Company's First Mortgage 5% Bonds for each $100 in notes outstanding. The Company, moreover, is obligated to make annual payments into a sinking fund which will retire 25% of the total issue before maturity.

The Company's earning capacity shows a wide margin over fixed charges. Its management is indirectly controlled by the Middle West Utilites Company, one of the largest public utility organizations in the country, thus assuring it of the benefit of capable and experienced management.

We recommend these notes for investment. A more complete description of the issue will be sent upon request for circular ML-1. Orders may be transmitted by telephone or wire at our expense. Shipment of bonds will be made at our risk and expense to any responsible bank in Wisconsin for delivery to purchasers.

And So It Came To Pass

That when the new Mitchell Model for 1921 was announced, the public instantly recognized it as a car of unusual beauty, well made by engineers who set forth their best efforts to produce a high grade automobile.

If you have not already seen and ridden in this new Model you have yet to experience the surprise of riding in a popular priced car, the comfort and fine riding qualities known to exist heretofore only in cars of much longer wheelbase, and costing twice the price of the Mitchell.

MARKET IN REVERSAL

Gains Made on Early Rebound Cancelled in Later Trading

NEW YORK—On an early rebound Tuesday oils and shippings as well as food and textile specialties were carried one to two points over Monday's final market prices, some of the rails, notably the Hill issues, also strengthening. Excepting Atlantic Gulf early gains were largely or entirely cancelled before noon, steels, motors, coppers, tobaccos and low priced rails yielding to renewed pressure. Republic Iron preferred, Tobacco Products and Sears-Roebuck were especially heavy, losing two to three points and General Asphalt, the most active feature of the morning, reacted 1¾. There was little demand for call money at the 6½ per cent renewal rate.

Encouraged by Monday's late reaction shorts resumed their aggressive operations at the opening of the market, effecting further losses in a majority of the popular shares. Crucible lost a point and large fractional recessions were made by Mexican and Pan-American Petroleums, Rubber, Canadian Pacific and New Haven, Studebaker, General Asphalt, and several unimportant specialties were included among the firm issues. A steadier tone developed within the first half hour on the improvement shown by oils.

WHEAT MARKET STIFFENS

Rumor of Contemplated Enactment of Emergency Tariff Depresses Prices

CHICAGO, Ill.—Absence of any pressure to sell brought about an appearance of strength in the wheat market Tuesday. Buying, however, was of only a scattered sort and was confined mainly to shorts. Renewal of talk about enactment of an emergency tariff bill tended to give some advantage to bulls. Opening prices which varied from unchanged figures to ⅝c lower with March $1.52 and May $1.41 to $1.42 were followed by moderate gains all around and then by a fair reaction.

Subsequently bearish crop reports together with misgivings about economic conditions and lack of export demand led to efforts to liquidate, and prices broke sharply, May falling to the lowest level since 1915. The close was unsettled 2⅜c net decline to 1¼c gain with March $1.51⅞ to $1.52 and May $1.42¾ to $1.43.

Corn hardened with wheat. After opening a shade to ⅝c lower including May at 65½ to ⅝c, the market scored slight general gains but then sagged. Later the market sympathized with wheat weakness. Both corn and oats for May delivery touched the lowest figures since 1913. Corn closed nervous at ¼ to ⅝c net decline with May 65⅜ to ½c.

Oats were firmer with other cereals starting unchanged to ⅜c off May 40¼ to ⅜c but later showing a small advance.

Provisions like grain tended slightly upward.

ASSEMBLY DEFEATS BILL TO INCREASE COUNTY FAIR AID

Lower House also Votes $1500 to Pay for Portrait of Former Governor Philipp

FOWLER BILL URGES PAYMENT OF LA CROSSE ARCHITECTS

Would Recompense Firm for Drawing Normal School Plans

By FRED L. HOLMES

MADISON, Wis.—There will be no change in the appropriations in the form of state aid to the county fairs at this session of Wisconsin legislature. After a long debate the assembly killed the Atcherson bill on this subject. Before the bill was defeated at the suggestion of Assemblyman Anton Holly, Kewaunee, the assembly attached the amendment which would have reduced the amount of state aid from 80 per cent of the premiums to 40 per cent of the premiums. Holly explained that this would save the state approximately $66,000 annually. After this amendment was attached the entire assembly with one exception voted to kill the amended Atcherson bill.

Assemblyman Scribner withdrew his motion to reconsider the vote by which the assembly concurred in the senate bill appropriating approximately $156,000 annually for the state board of health. This bill now goes to the governor.

The assembly has concurred in senate bill appropriating $1500 for the purchase of an oil painting of Gov. E. L. Philipp, Milwaukee. Opposition developed to the measure. Assemblyman Holly thought that $10 would be a sufficient appropriation for an oil painting. He said that he had talked to an artist painting in the 5 and 10 cent store and that this artist said that he could make a good painting for $10 size 2 feet by 2 feet which would last 100 years. Assemblyman Grandine moved indefinite postponement to the bill. Assemblyman Jordan, Milwaukee socialist, thought the amount appropriated for this purpose is excessive.

"I think this is a very poor way to snub a next governor," said Assemblyman Oakes of St. Croix county. "I hold no grief for Gov. Philipp but he has served this state as executive for 6 years. A preceding legislature appropriated $3000 for a painting of Ex-Gov. McGovern. I think the same should be done for Gov. Philipp."

The portrait bill was concurred in by a vote of 37 to 28.

The assembly advanced the Fowler bill appropriating $3,000 to Albert E. Parkinson and Bernard J. Dockendorff for services in drawing plans for a building at La Crosse Normal school.

The assembly is sure that it wants to do something to change the present dog tax law although last week it passed a bill reducing the dog taxes from $5 and $3 to females and males to $2 and $1, it has now passed a bill repealing the entire law. The Cook repeal measure went through the house 37 to 24. It will now be up to the senate to settle the dog tax controversy. The assembly killed the Sachtjen appropriating legislative salary to Herman Marth, Griffith Thomas, Aalter Wittman, Publius V. Lawson and Louis Fons, who served at special sessions of legislature and not at regular sessions. This controversy is to be taken to Wisconsin supreme court for settlement. The members of legislature elected to serve at special sessions of legislature have not been paid a salary. Final passage was given to Schwalbach bill requiring the use of chemical fire extinguishers on all threshing machine outfits. Judge Levi H. Bancroft addressed the assembly for a few minutes declaring that too many commissions have been created and that the tax payers are protesting against the high cost of government.

TWO AMERICANS ON TRIAL FOR ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP BERGDOLL

Accused of "Illegal Assumption of Authority" in German Court

MOSBACH, Baden.—Trial of Carl Neuf and Franz Zimmer, Americans, who attempted to arrest Grover C. Bergdoll, American draft evader, at Eberbach, last January, which was begun here yesterday, was continued today. With the two Americans there were placed on trial four Germans, who, it is alleged, were their accomplices in an attempt to kidnap Bergdoll. The case is being tried before the local criminal court.

Neuf and Zimmer are charged with "illegal assumption of authority" while an additional charge of "carelessness inflicting bodily injury," has been preferred against Neuf. This charge is a result of wounds inflicted upon a young woman by shots fired, it is averred by the Americans, while they were attempting to arrest Bergdoll. The Germans being tried are Gustave Steiger, Gottfried Kelin, August Farmbach and Herr Hilderbrand. They are accused of aiding the Americans.

BLOOMER PASTOR TO BE CONGREGATIONAL HEAD AT VIROQUA

VIROQUA, Wis.—Rev. E. Richard Evans of Bloomer, Wis., has been secured as the new pastor of the First Congregational church of this city and will be here within a month to take up his pastorate work. Rev. Evans spoke at the Congregational church on Sunday morning and evening and met with the Sunday school classes and Christian Endeavor societies during the day.

Mr. Evans is a Boy Scout master and has had much experience as a leader and will continue the work here, reorganizing the Boy Scout organization which was established during the pastorate of Rev. Stephens. The local Congregational church has been without a minister for over a year. Rev. and Mrs. Evans were recent visitors here, where they met many of the members of the church. They will occupy the Congregational parsonage upon their arrival here.

ANNOUNCE CAMPAIGN TO CURB ACTIVITIES OF WORLD DRUG RING

NEW YORK.—Opening of a fight to curb the traffic of an international drug ring said to be headed by business men of Germany, Japan and England, was announced here Tuesday by Dr. Carleton, special deputy police commissioner.

Declaring high officers of steamers plying between New York and South American ports have been transporting drugs to this country, Dr. Simmons said many raids are planned and developments of a startling nature expected.

The crews of six steamships now are under surveillance, he added.

Drugs manufactured in Germany, it is charged, have been carried from that country into Switzerland by means of underground passageways which have been discovered. Through Switzerland these drugs, have been transported to America, China, Japan and Italy.

The flamingo no longer exists on the American continent.

EVERSOLE PEEVED OVER REDUCTION TO MECHANIC RANK

Man Who Jumped from Airplane With Patent Parachute Asks Official Aid

Pilot C. G. Eversole, who jumped from an airplane in the Twin city-La Crosse-Chicago airmail service, at Mendota, Minn., February 18, today asked Governor J. A. O. Preus and United States Senator Knute Nelson to bring about an investigation of the incident and charged that he is being persecuted because he saved his life by jumping from his plane with a parachute. He said he had been reduced from a pilot to a mechanic and had been taken off the payroll because he refused to work as a shop mechanic. Eversole, whose home is in Chicago, has been reporting daily to the airplane field there as a pilot, he said.

"I asked Superintendent Majors of the Chicago airmail field by whose authority he was penalizing me," wrote Eversole. "He advised me it was by his own authority. He said he had no intention of assigning me to flying duty as long as I remained bolshevik, meaning my refusal to work as a shop mechanic."

Eversole said the lives of other air mail pilots could be saved if an investigation were made of his case.

TAKES PAIN OUT OF RHEUMATISM

Keep Sloan's Handy for Backache Strains and Sprains, too

SLOAN'S Liniment has been sold for 39 years. Today, it is more popular than ever. There can be but one answer—Sloan's produces results.

Applied without rubbing, it penetrates to the afflicted part, bringing relief from rheumatic twinges, sciatica; sore, stiff, strained muscles; backaches, sprains, and other external pains, often the result of exposure. It leaves no mussiness, skin stain or clogged pores.

Get a large bottle for greater economy. Keep it handy for use when needed. Your druggist has it. Three sizes—35c, 70c, $1.40.
